Thank you so much! This has really been bothering me. [REDACTED] is a follower and I don't want her following that. Please keep me in the loop. Happy Thanksgiving to you and your family!!

Thank you so much for emailing me. I know there is girl drama between the three of them, which we are working on. However, I had no idea it was that bad. I am going to share this with our guidance counselor and Mr. Pillsbury because it is absolutely unacceptable to be speaking that way about another student.

In my observations, [REDACTED] is the follower and I haven't seen or heard her speak that way. I will let you know what plan we have in place and what else I find out.

Again, thank you so much for bringing this to my attention.

I honestly don't even know how to write this email, and I'm sure my child isn't innocent in all the drama either. She has told me such disturbing things that [REDACTED] says, about Kora. On my way home from our conference last week she told me that [REDACTED] said, look at Kora, her skin is the color of poop.. then this morning she told me that yesterday [REDACTED] asked her who she hated in the class? [REDACTED] said noone and she told [REDACTED] to say she hated Kora. I went to [REDACTED] sisters girls scout troop meeting, so missed hers. My friend who runs the troop told me that she had to speak to them numerous times during Fridays meeting. I don't wanna be that mom who says KEEP MY KID AWAY FROM THAT ONE! But could you try to if that's even possible? I want [REDACTED] to be kind Gretchin, not to hang out with some mean little girl. Ugh. I hope you have a good day, sorry for this, it's just really bothering me.
